

Cultured Marble Vanity Countertop Care & Maintenance Guide

Rynone Cultured Marble is a durable, cost-effective material made from a cast polymer backing, covered by a waterproof resin finish. With proper care, your vanity top can stay beautiful and functional for many years.

Here's how to keep it looking its best:

Daily Cleaning – Gloss Finish

- Use mild soap and water or a non-abrasive household cleaner.
- Soft cloth or sponge only. Avoid rough scrubbers or steel wool.
- Rinse thoroughly to remove soap residue.
- Dry with a soft towel to prevent water spots.

Daily Cleaning – Satin Finish

- Use mild soap and water or a non-abrasive household cleaner.
- Soft cloth or sponge, or a mild abrasive such as a scotch pad, or Bon-Ami powder may be used
- Rinse thoroughly to remove soap residue.
- Dry with a soft towel to prevent water spots.

Stain Prevention

- Wipe spills immediately. Especially hair dye, makeup, nail polish remover, or toothpaste.
- Avoid harsh chemicals like bleach, ammonia, or acetone.
- Use trays or mats under toiletry items to prevent staining and etching.

Polishing & Shine

- Use a non-abrasive polish such as Gel-Gloss (formulated for cultured marble) occasionally to restore shine.
- Do not wax—it may cause a wax buildup.

Avoid Heat & Impact

- Do not place hot items (curling irons, straighteners) directly on the surface—use a heat-resistant mat.
- Avoid dropping heavy objects—cultured marble is very durable but can still crack or chip.

Long-Term Care Tips

- Check caulking around faucet and backsplash regularly and replace if needed.

Minor Repairs

- Small scratches or dull spots?
 - Gloss Finish - Use a cultured marble polish or automotive polishing compound.
 - Satin Finish - Use a mild abrasive cleaner like Bon-Ami or Bar Keepers Friend
 - Always test the method on an inconspicuous area first
- Chips or cracks should be repaired by a professional to maintain integrity.

With routine care and a few simple precautions, your cultured marble vanity will stay beautiful and durable for years.
